Solemove Release notes Incoming student application
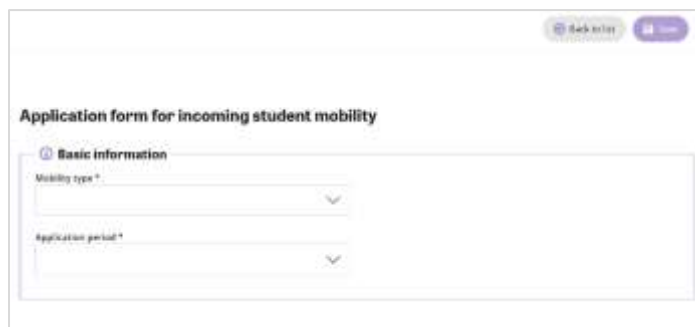

Solemove version 2.97

Incoming student home view

In the home view, incoming students can see their own application, existing and upcoming application periods.

Fill out the application as an incoming student

1. Log in to the system with your local type of credentials.

2. Under the My applications section, you can see a normal application created by the system, which you can continue with or if you need to create a short mobility application you can start to create another application.

Note that the system generates a normal type of application for an incoming student, and the applicant can continue this application.

Normal application to continue

The application can be opened from the edit icon.

1. Define the correct Mobility type, options are Study, Traineeship, or Combined Study and Traineeship.

2. Select the correct Application period. The system displays available options based on the selected application type and the mobility type.

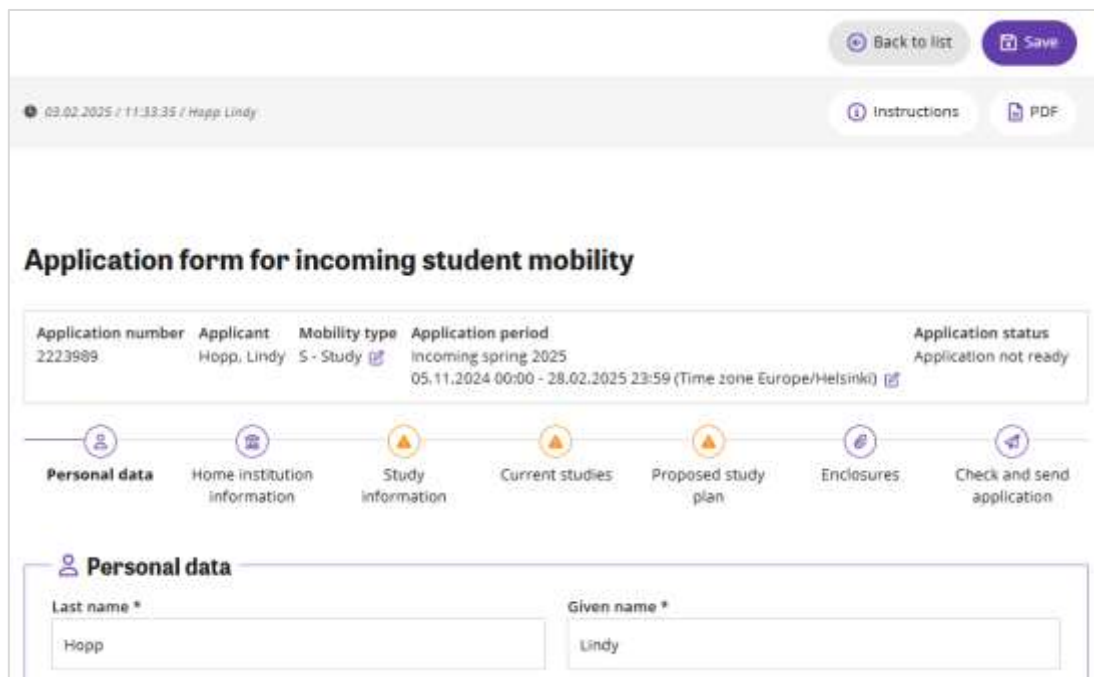

3. Select Save, and the application form opens.

The application form is divided into tabs. You can navigate the form by selecting icons at the top or using the next and previous buttons at the end of the page.

Note: Always save changes before you leave the tab.

Mandatory fields are marked with an * mark. After you have saved the information, the system informs you if some mandatory data is missing. You can only submit your application if all mandatory information is set. The tab's icon is a notification icon if compulsory data is missing, or your attention is needed.

Top of the page you can see action buttons.

On top of the application form, you can see the application number and other basic details of your application.

Changing the Mobility type and or application period information is possible if needed.

Click the Edit icon next to the changed information.

Update the date and Save changes. Changes in Mobility type information can effect on your application form.
